Our Twenty-Fifth Year

IN REVIEW

The Nineteen Hundred

Our school was named for this man,
COLONEL WILLIAM FLEMING

William Fleming as it looked on its first birthday 1934.

Published by the students of

Fifty-Eight Colonel

Happy Birthday, Fleming!

The twenty-five candles on your cake burn bright beacons, for each is the proud possessor of a year's transition and a year's triumphs.

The earliest candle glows for 1933 when one hundred fifty-two eager students poured into your new halls. A later one burns for 1935 and the publication of your first annual. 1939 saw the foundation of your SCA and 1941 the winning of the first Distinguished award in the state one-act play festival, a record unmarred in succeeding years.

The candles which mark 1952, '53, and '54 recall basketball championships. In 1941 and '43 and again in 1945, '47, and '49, your football team, always valiant, frequently victorious, brought you similar laurels.

Art Club and Athletes, Beta Club and Band, Choir and Classes—all those who have become a part of your spirit salute you and all wish you

Many Happy Returns

May your next twenty-five candles burn as brightly.

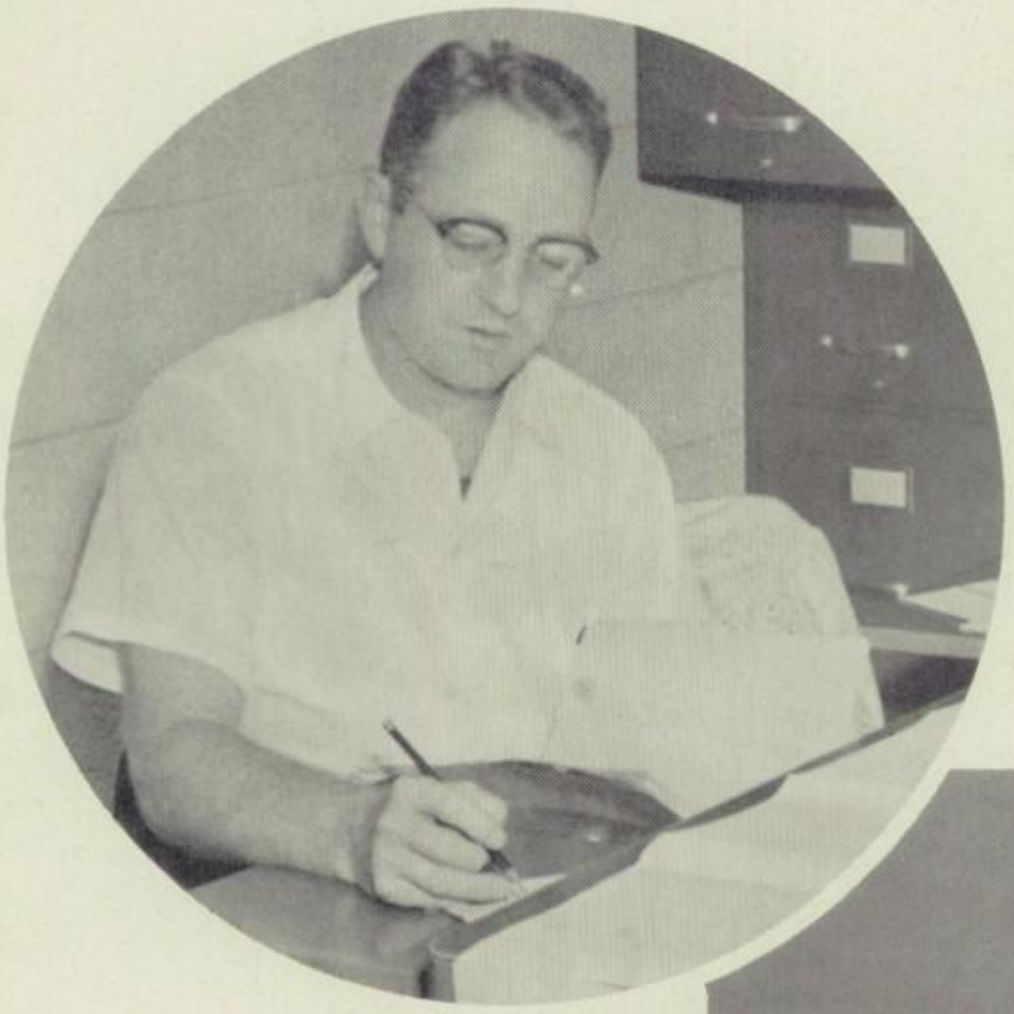
....depicting twenty-five years in GROWTH

in dedication



In memory's kaleidoscope of William Fleming, there will be a variety of patterns, changing and restless. No matter what the design of the pattern, one facet remains fixed. Mirrored there is one whose calmness and gentleness, bolstered by a reserved strength swayed the ideals of those students who in their daily contact with him have gained enrichment in their lives.

Because he is like the knight of Canterbury Tales, we echo Chaucer's words:

"He never had in all his lifetime said

An ill-bred word to serf or man of might

He was a gentle, true and perfect knight."

We take pride, therefore, in dedicating this, our anniversary issue of The Colonel to our assistant principal, Paul B. Foster.

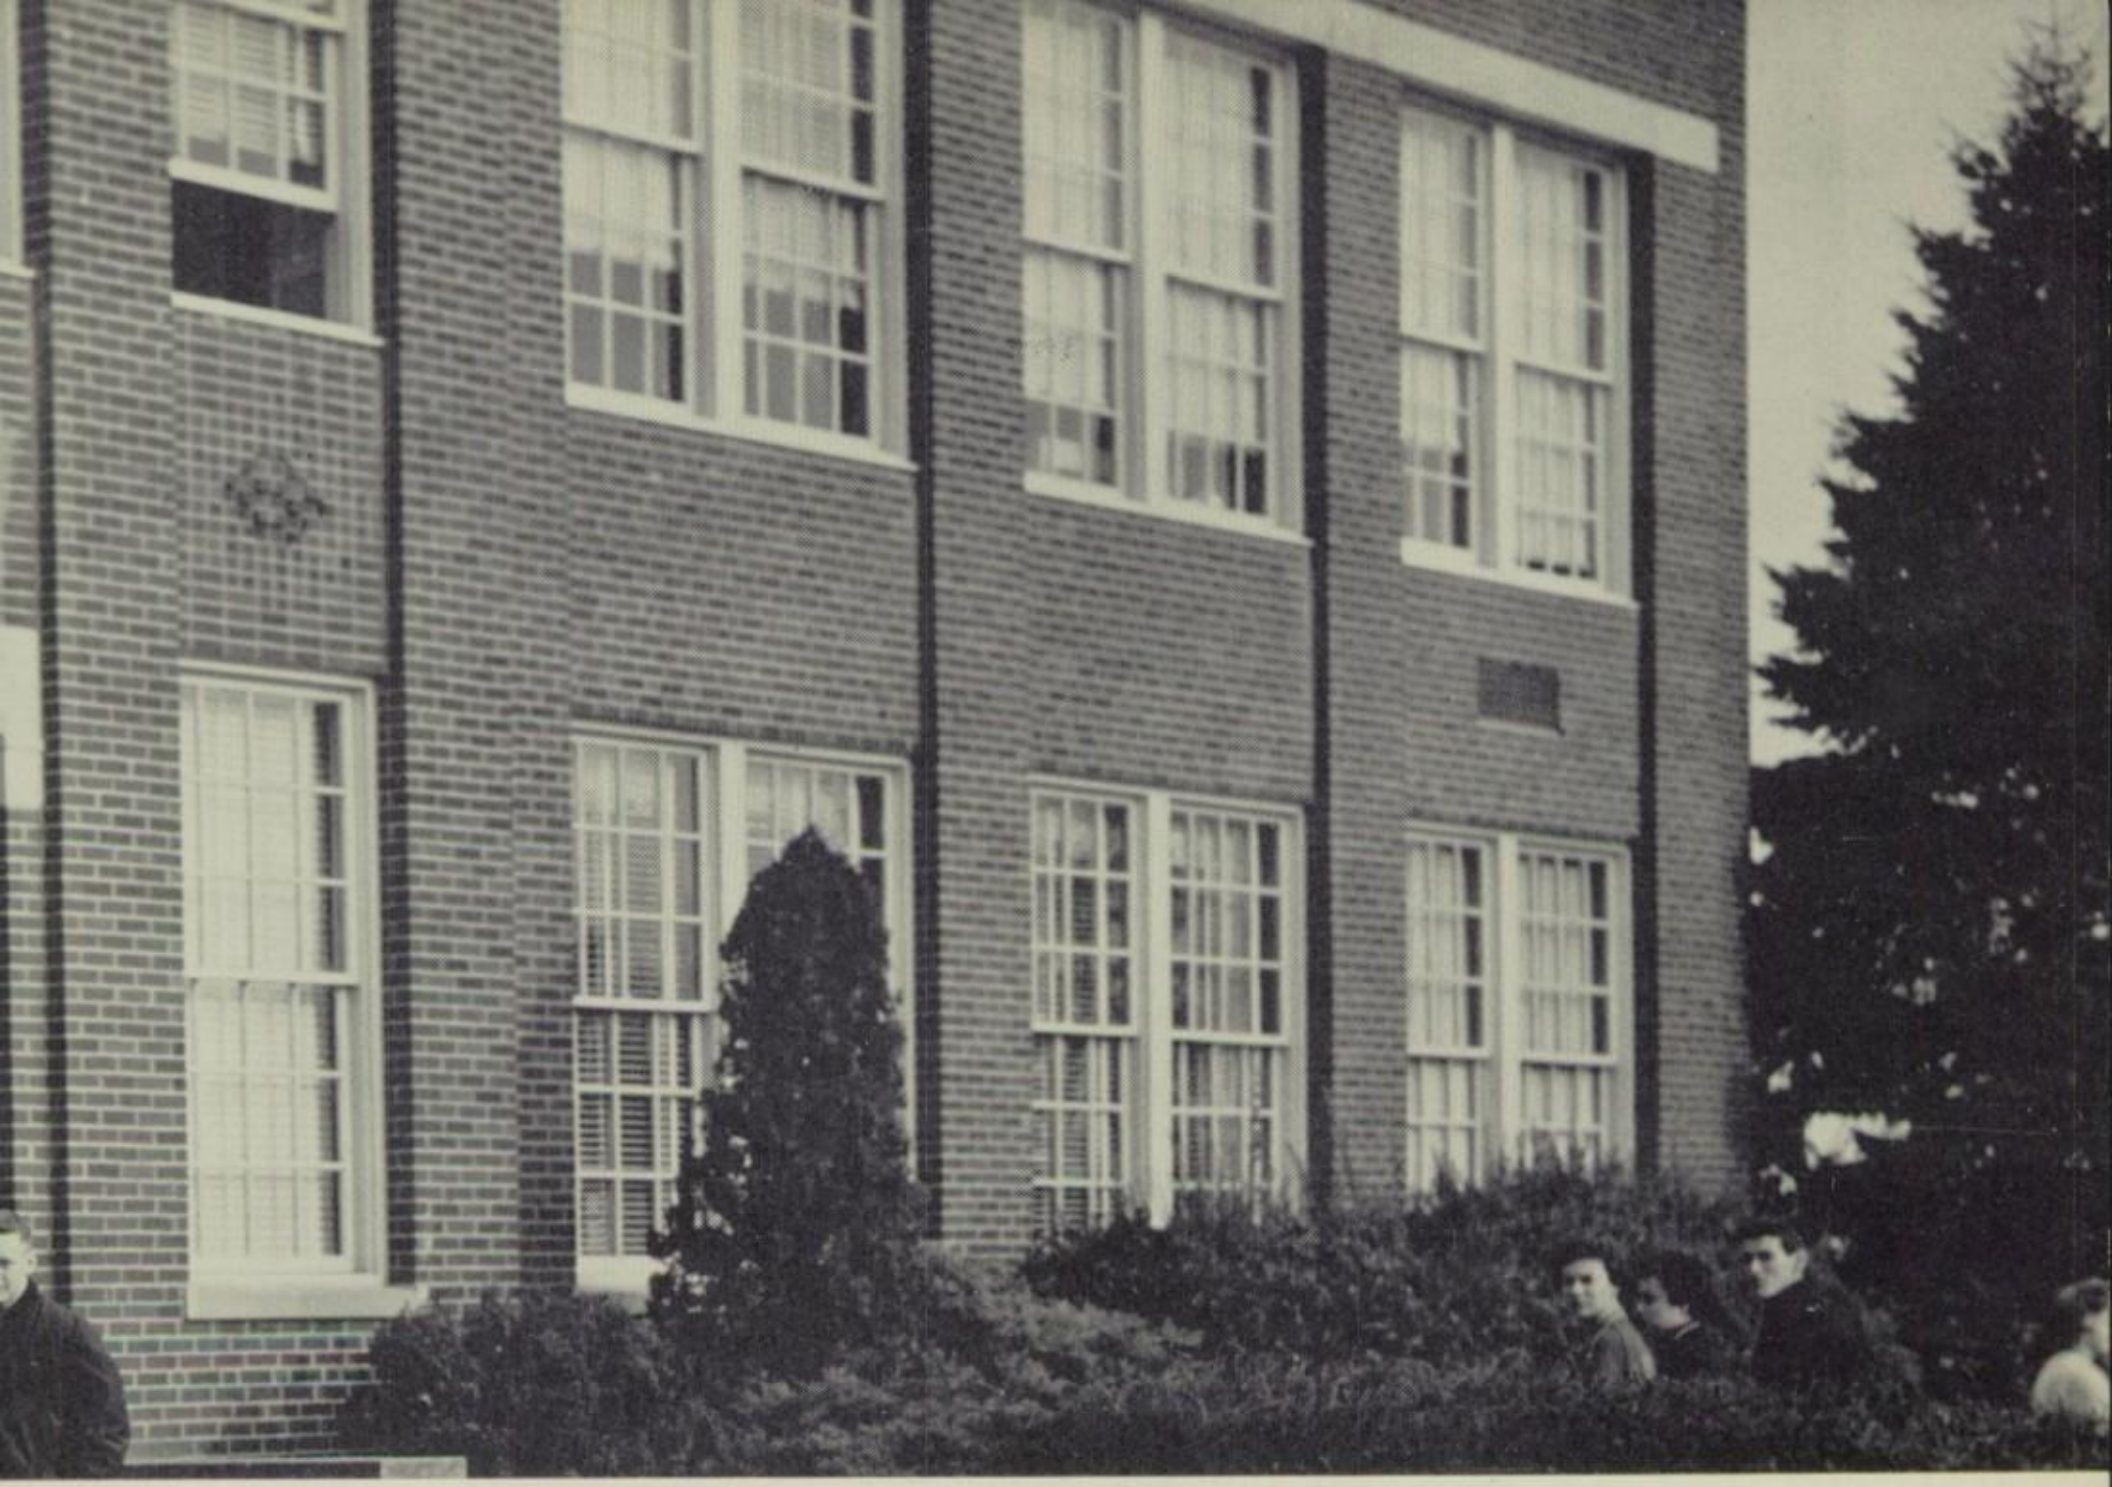
Our Twenty-Fifth Year

of Student Life

Having lit the candles commemorating Fleming's twenty-five years, we take from its holder the one marked 1958, setting it apart from the others. Now, by its light we trace the hurrying moments of our anniversary year.

The things we will remember: The Seniors achieving at last the cherished privilege of marching first from assembly; the pleading for mercy of "Comrade 64821" on the annual staff program; the decorations dropping—one by one—from an unhappy float in the Homecoming parade; the spectacular Homecoming football victory over our previously undefeated opponents; the opening curtain of the drama, "Night Must Fall"; the murmur of happy voices blended with the music of the Junior-Senior prom.

Our candle will fade and melt into the lights of the past. The future is yours. Guard well its light.



Gay antics depict the end of the day for some Fleming students.

Mrs. Hubbard explains the lesson to Corky Mays.

The library offers students a quiet place to read and study.

concentration....momentary

The Fleming stands are crowded with enthusiastic fans.

The cheerleaders add a noisy climax to an assembly.

Patti Ballard and Joe LeNoir are a typical example of young love around Fleming.

Confusion..... pride.... companionship

The Junior-Senior Prom was the theme of the Junior class Homecoming Float. Adding the finishing touches are: Vernon Ferguson, Wayne Bradley, Kennis Coffman.

fun and frolic....work with

School offers both work and play

"My candle burns at both ends;
It will not last the night;
But ah, my foes, and oh, my friends—
It gives a lovely light."

There are times when we feel with Edna St. Vincent Millay that this is the way that our candle burns, for both Fleming days and nights teem with activity. Classes follow one another in quick succession; but they are only one segment of our school life. Problems, of course, arise, and we drop into the Guidance Office for help and advice. Then we dash into the library, for the next book report is due, or we must find material for that research paper. We often have to squeeze a play rehearsal between a committee meeting and an early evening hop. We sing with the choir, march with the band or paint with the art club according to our talents or inclinations.

Thus our life at Fleming flows from autumn to winter, from winter to spring. Another year's end brings us to graduation, speeches, farewells. We can truly say that our candle had given "a lovely light."

Led by the cheerleaders, the student body yells for Fleming.

Mrs. Virginia Kirkwood and Mrs. Rebecca Anderson help guide us in best planning our schedule.

The Physics class seems interested in the mechanics of a vacuum pump.

Faculty

Fleming's twenty-fifth year, as the preceding ones, has been led by an able administration. Over the twenty-five year period, three persons have held the rank of principal; namely, Mr. R. Douglas Nininger, 1933-43; Mrs. Elizabeth Powell, 1943-46; and our present principal, Mr. Albert Coulter, who came to his position in the fall of 1946.

Mr. Paul Foster is our assistant principal and Mr. Coulter's "right-hand man", handling daily problems with quiet efficiency.

Without the talents of these men and our entire faculty, Fleming would perish. Each administrator and teacher in his own way guides and helps us in our efforts to become better citizens. With their continued efforts, Fleming can only go forward.

In a period of twenty-five years our school has grown from a small institution with about 152 pupils to one serving around 1,100. We hope that our influence and worth to the community have grown accordingly. May each of us in the current family resolve to do our best in school and out, and thus our influence of the future of Roanoke will continue to spread through the years.

W. A. COULTER

I am happy to share in celebrating William Fleming's Silver Anniversary. All of us are proud of our school's accomplishments and growth over the years, and we treasure the "Fleming spirit" that has played so important a part in this progress.

But our sense of pride does not blind us to the problem we face and the need for constant improvement. We need the help of each one of you—as students and as citizens of the community—in making Fleming's next 25 years as successful as her first quarter-century.

P. B. FOSTER

Twenty-five years of public education mark a great milestone of service to thousands of youth. Congratulations to all of you who have made William Fleming High School the institution of high quality and fine character that it is today. I am confident that the past is only the prologue to an even greater high school, destined to contribute to higher standards of living and learning for those who educate and those who are educated there.

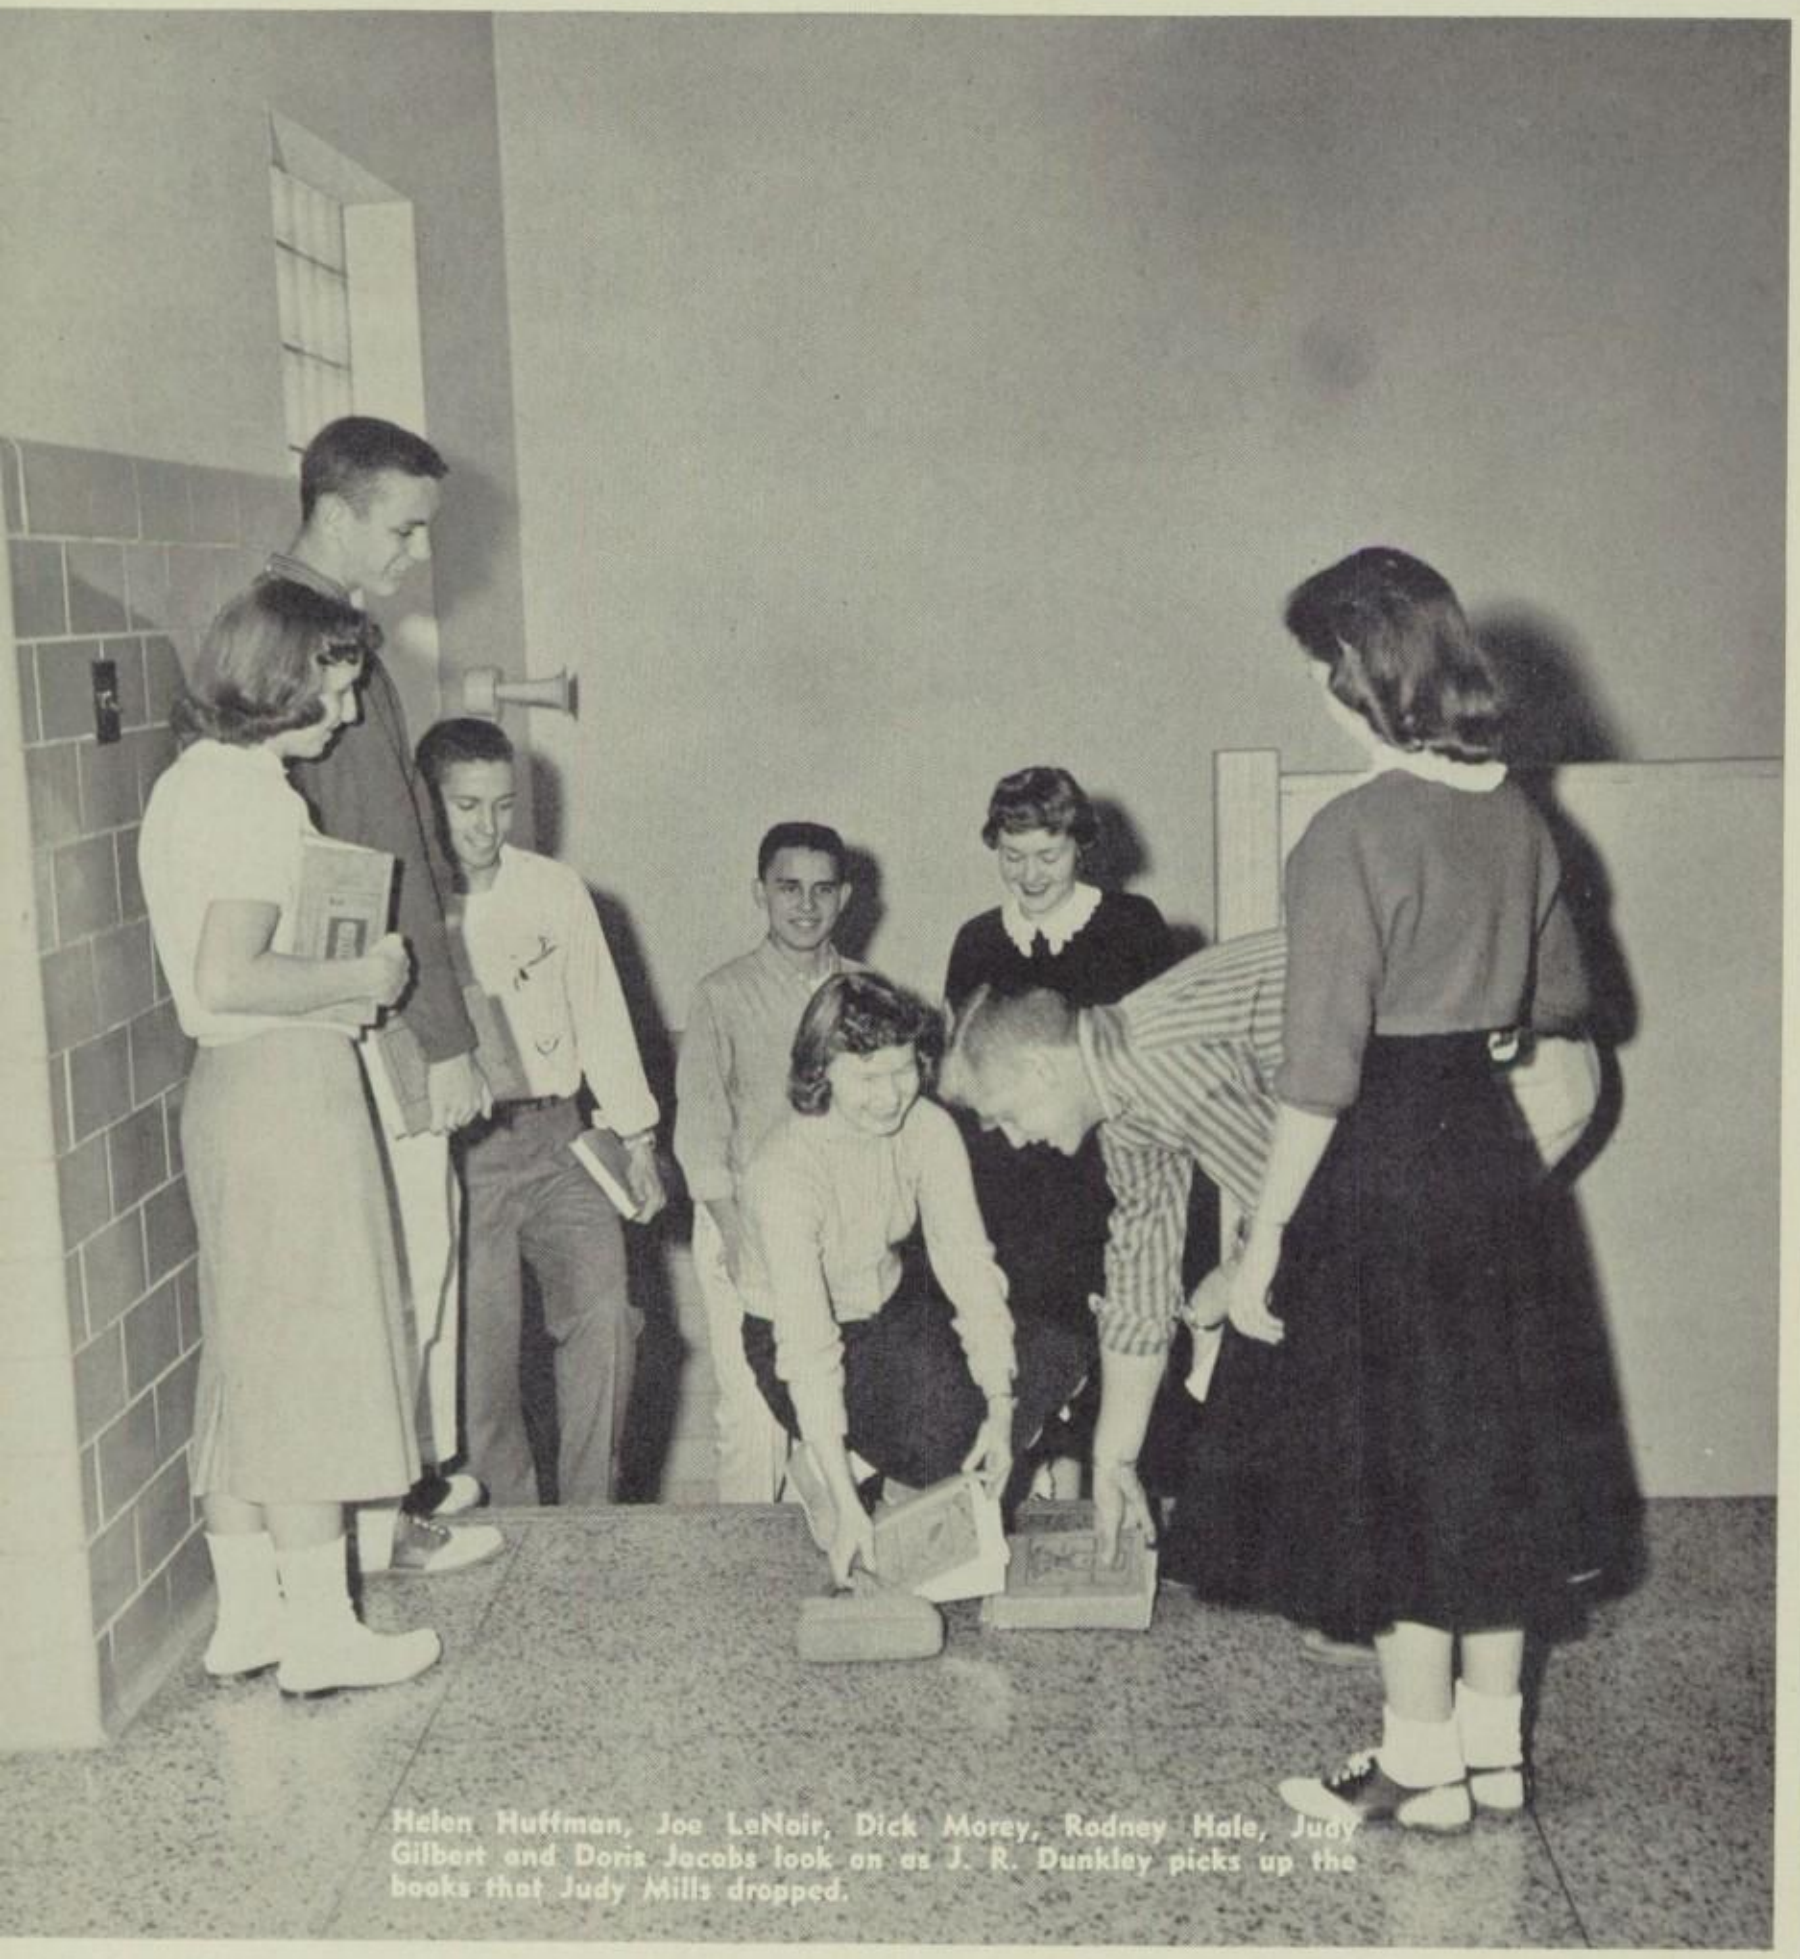
Classes

The bell sounds! The halls empty! Classes Begin! Though this experience is repeated throughout our climb up the high school ladder, the variety of the pattern in our classes is endless. There we know tears and toil, joys and sorrows — all of which go with us as we steadily progress year by year. Beginning in the eighth grade, by achievement and advancement, we reach the high rung of the scholastic ladder — seniors. On the following pages are your friends and classmates who share the years of high school with you.



Helen Huffman, Joe LeNoir, Dick Morey, Rodney Hale, Judy Gilbert and Doris Jacobs look on as J. R. Dunkley picks up the books that Judy Mills dropped.

The class of '58 is making its departure. It is with a tinge of regret mingled with anticipation of greater things to come that we leave, feeling confident that the knowledge we have gathered here may be used as a stepping-stone to future endeavors.

The fellowship with our classmates which taught us the importance of human relations, our participation in extra-curricular activities, our faculty who influenced our sense of values and responsibility — all have helped to make this a memorable "Senior Year" We are proud that it was again a Fleming senior who won the "Voice of Democracy" contest; could we ever forget our long debated Senior meeting with its conflicts concerning a different place for Commencement and the endless battle for Senior privileges? Needless to say, we will long remember Macbeth with its interminable memory work — "Out, out, brief candle . . . " — and those chemistry equations that never quite balanced.

We, the 25th Senior Class, are aware that we have traveled far from confused eighth graders, to the looked-forward-to position of Seniors. It is with this realization of our past growth, that we say, truly, Commencement is only our beginning.

Calvin Weddle, Beverly Barbee, and Diane McMillian use the resources of the school library to write their Senior themes.

Mrs. Mason shows the Senior announcements and calling cards to Alan Brogan, Kenny Garren, and Pat Medley.

Judy Mills, J. R. Dunkley, Judy Gilbert, and Ray Fisher prepare to leave for Senior Day at Bedford Lake.

Emerging from the throes of American history, the intricacies of theme writing, and the complexities of plane geometry, the juniors awoke to the realization that they were nearing the top of the educational ladder. Larry Arrington, the class president, began to find his life a busy one as he and Miss Williams, the new class sponsor, planned the hops, appointed prom committees, collected class dues, and commiserated with one another when the decorations fell from the home-coming float.

Two major highlights of the year were the winning of the TV set awarded by the Jaycees to the group selling the greatest number of tickets to the Fleming-Jefferson game, and, of course, the junior-senior prom.

Full of new knowledge and happy memories, the juniors prepared to climb the final rung of the ladder and to become the first graduating class in Fleming's second quarter of a century.

Mr. Young, a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, speaks to Mrs. Dickinson's speech class concerning the Voice of Democracy Contest.

Sports

The crispness of October air, the smell of autumn leaves—and football; the heat of the gym on a January night, the sound of flying feet on the gym floor—and basketball; the new green on the campus trees, the touch of the April sun—and track. These are the sights, the sounds, the sensations we will remember as season follows season.

We will recall the blur of blue and gold uniforms and the spirit of the teams as we were bound together in victory or defeat. It is this spirit that recalls to us the teams of other years and unites our voices with those of our predecessors as we shout, "Colonels, Colonels, C-O-L-O-N-E-L-S! Colonels! Fight 'em, team, fight 'em!"

"We're with you team, so fight, fight, fight!!"

What would the athletic events be without cheerleaders, for they add the sparkle and spirit that every game needs.

Since Fleming's very beginning our cheerleaders have been cheering teams and promoting good sportsmanship and good school spirit.

The cheerleaders lead the students in a rousing yell as Fleming scores again.

Cheerleaders

This school year the Senior cheerleaders were always busy. They had pep assemblies and rallies, made Homecoming a success, and helped with the Good Citizenship Campaign.

The cheerleaders are to be commended for their work. Indeed we should all join in a hearty cheer of thanks to the Senior Cheerleaders.

"Smile and be peppy" was the command given to the Junior Cheerleaders by their coach, Carol Hancock, as they began their first practices in the summer. And smiling and peppy they appeared in the first assembly of the year and in their subsequent appearances. They led cheers each week in the lower grade assemblies and supported the Junior Varsity teams in both football and basketball seasons. In addition they had charge of the bonfire for the Homecoming festivities.

The first Junior Squad made its debut at Fleming in 1948, and thus the organization celebrates its tenth year as the school celebrates its twenty-fifth.

At a JV basketball game, the girls are snapped as they conclude a "Bo-Bo".

Coach Moore

As Fleming turns twenty-five, we salute Mr. Fred Smith, who came to Fleming in 1938. He followed Coaches Tom West and Red Kefauver, each of whom stayed a year, and Coach Pete Brubaker, who remained two years. In the succeeding years the athletic program has grown, and Coach Smith has become athletic director and head football and track coach.

With the enlargement of athletic activities, the coaching staff has also been enlarged. Mr. Jimmy Moore joined the staff in 1955, fourth in a line of basketball coaches. He is also assistant football coach.

Wrestling is a comparatively new sport in Fleming's competitive history. Under the capable direction of Mr. Kenneth French, it has maintained its initial height of popularity and success. Mr. French, in addition to his duties as wrestling coach, serves as line coach in football.

Mr. Dan Wooldridge and Mr. Jimmy Thompson do important jobs in laying the "ground work" with the boys who will someday be the star athletes. Mr. Wooldridge coaches the JV football team, Junior High basketball, and baseball. Mr. Thompson coaches freshman football and the Junior Varsity basketball team.

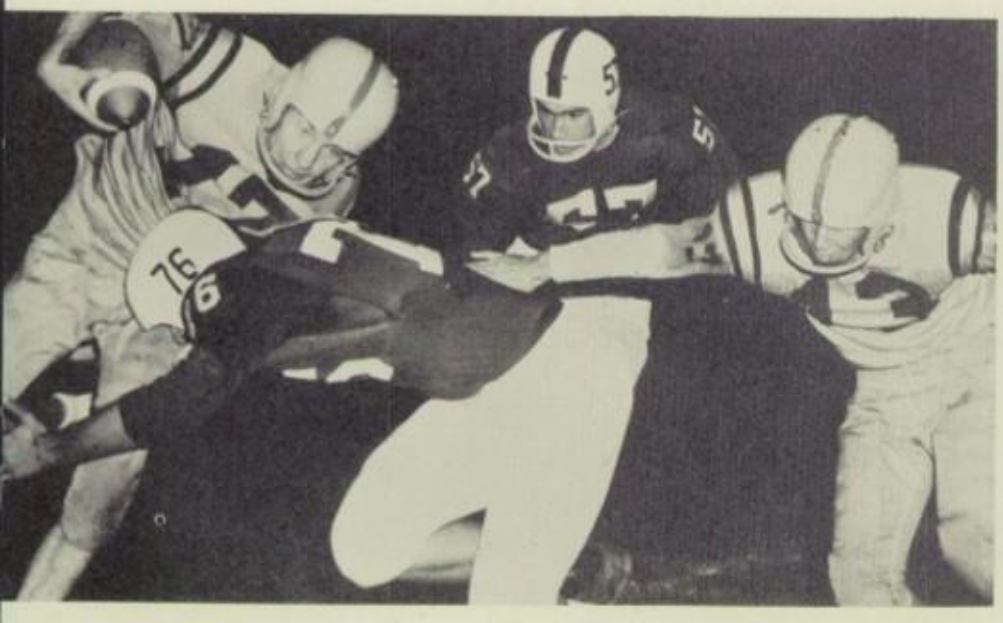
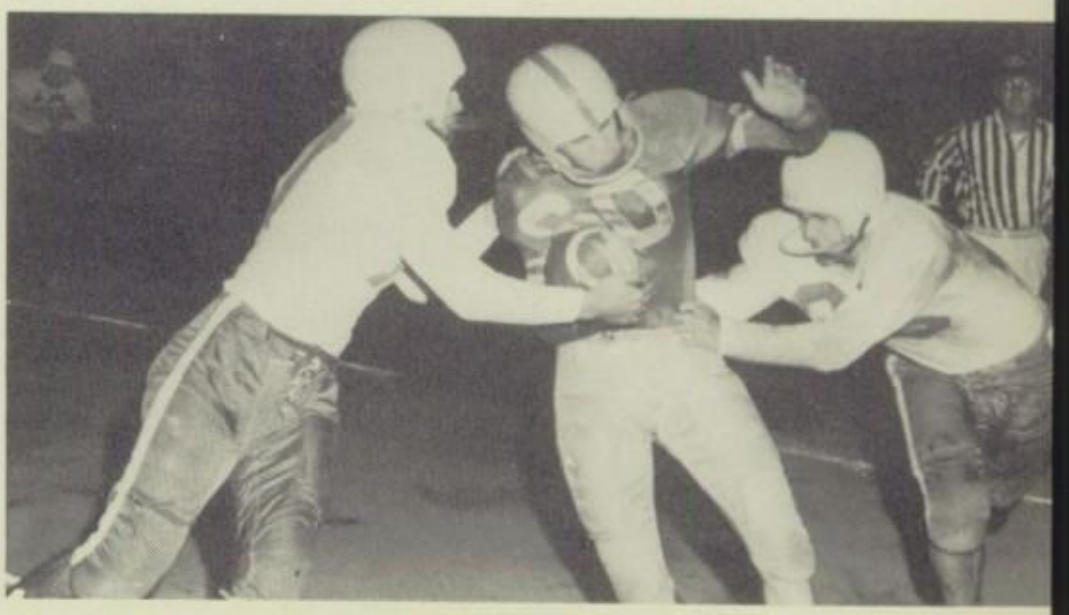
Fleming ball-carrier Jerry Smith is confronted by an Andrew Lewis tackler.

J. R. Dunkley prepares to block as Jerry Smith carries for a nice gain.



Jerry Smith is nailed by a John Marshall man as Kenny Garren tries to clear the way.



Mike Stevens is finally brought down by two Andrew Lewis tacklers.

The 1957 football team ended the season with an 8-2 record, the best since Fleming became a Group I school in 1955. The season opened with a 15-6 victory over Covington. Although the team went down to defeat in its second game with E. C. Glass, it came back to show its strength by defeating John Marshall of Richmond 18-13. The Jefferson Magicians defeated the Colonels by the lop-sided score of 32-7, handing the team its greatest disappointment of the year. After this loss, however, the Blue and Gold rolled over all remaining opponents and won the last six games of the season.

The Fleming Colonels may look back with pride not only on the season just ended, but also on its record for all its football years. In the twenty years since Coach Smith came to Fleming, the football record is 107-54-16;* with eight District VI championships and one half-state title before the school advanced to Group I. At that time the school held a winning record over all league foes.

Varsity Football

Junior Varsity Football

Fleming's future "flashes" in the realm of football showed promise in the current season, posting a 3-3-1 record. The season opened with a 7-7 tie with Pulaski, and a triumph over Troutville the following week to the tune of 21-7. In the third game of the season against Jefferson, the team battled to a deadlock in the first period, but lost in the end to the Baby Magicians by a score of 13-0. In the game against the Virginia Episcopal School, Coach Wooldridge's boys looked good as they brought in a 26-0 victory; however, they lost to Glass the following week, 7-0. In the last two games of the season against Andrew Lewis and Jefferson respectively, Fleming showed up well, defeating the young Wolverines 20-7 and losing to the Jeffites by a score of 18-13.

David Ayers, Don Thomas, Tommy Gentry and Hugh Harnsbarger turned in outstanding performances for the season.

Coached by Mr. Thompson, the Freshman Football team began its season by going down in defeat to the powerful Pulaski team, 0-14. In the second game of the season Andrew Lewis scored a victory over the Frosh to the tune of 0-6. Outshining its older Varsity brothers, however, the team won its game with the baby Jeffites, 13-6. The following week they bowed in defeat to Martinsville 7-21, and subsequently to Byrd, 0-6. Bouncing back to trounce Glass 7-0 and Troutville 25-6, the team began to show the power of which it was capable before closing the season with a final loss of 7-14 to Troutville's Warriors.

1957 Fleming Cagers

If the won-lost record is the only factor considered, the 1957-58 season was not an impressive one. However, despite a losing season, the Colonels continued to work hard in practice and to give their best to every contest. Their diligence began to pay off in the latter part of the season when the Fleming Five registered three wins in their last five outings, losing only to strong Jefferson and E. C. Glass teams. Garland Berry, with an average of 13.5 points per game, was the Colonels' leading scorer. He was later named to the All-Western District team.

In 25 years of basketball, Fleming teams have compiled a record of 287 wins against 184 losses. The Colonels are credited with seven District championships, two half-state crowns and two State Group II titles.

Mickey Tuck tries to help his team-mate to keep the ball as the guards from the opposing side close in.

Garland Berry encounters some interference from a member of the opposing side, as he jumps for the basket.

Cage Snaps

Garland Berry jumps for a basket.

Archie Minton shoots for a goal.

Donnie Smith resists the Pulaski guard for a shot at the basket.

Coach Moore gives the team a pep talk before the game.

"B" Basketball

First Row: B. Brammer, L. Caldwell, B. Jones, D. Caldwell.
Second Row: G. Spiers, T. Harper, D. Ragland, J. Adams.

The "B" team is composed of boys of varsity age who, due to insufficient experience and the varsity's number limitations, would have little opportunity to participate in varsity games.

The 1957-58 "B" team, despite a losing season, gave a good account of itself. Many of its losses were by a narrow margin against strong opponents.

Outstanding players this year included: Bobby Brammer, player-coach; Tommy Harper, captain and leading scorer; Gary Spiers, and David Leonard.

Valiant was the word for the Jayvee Basketball Team who finished the season with four games in the column of wins. These were the games played against Covington (20-11), Pulaski (42-33), Montvale (41-39), and Danville (42-40). Despite a luckless season, the team gained valuable experience in playing preliminaries to the Varsity games.

First Row: P. Gravett, R. Ayers, T. Ferguson, J. Benson, S Bain.
Second Row: B. O'Brien, C. Sink, J. Saul, B. Stover, P. McArthur.

Jr. High Basketball

A Fleming first for the year was the Junior High Basketball Team, which at last boasted both coach and organized squad.

Coach Wooldridge's cagers participated in the city junior high school league, compiling a record of nine wins and eleven losses for the year and having at the season's end a 30.4 average to the opponents' 34.1.

Leading scorer for the team was Bobby O'Brien with 167 points, followed by C. B. Sink with 150. Team captain was Tommy Ferguson and regular squad members were Joe Bush, P. D. Gravett, and Jimmy Benson.

Fifth Row: Coach K. French, J. Stinnette, B. Starkey, R. Vest, J. Yates, L. Mullins, B. Johnson.

The 1958 Wrestlers, under the leadership of Coach French and Captain Herb Bowling, developed an inexperienced squad into a well-rounded and powerful team. The Colonels had a team record of 6 wins and 4 losses for the current season. Herb Bowling, John Stinnette, and Bob Whitmore went undefeated in dual match competition this season. At the State Tournament at Princess Anne High School in Norfolk, Herb Bowling placed second, John Stinnette third, and Jack Osborne fourth in their respective weights. Although not pictured above, Mike Patterson was called on to fill the 122-lb. division during most of the season.

Wrestling was introduced at Fleming in 1950 by Mr. Smith who did the coaching himself until Mr. French took over in 1955. After three losing seasons, in which the Colonels won but two matches, Fleming enjoyed an unbeaten season in 1953. Not since that campaign have the Fleming grapplers had a losing season.

The 1957 track team under the guidance of Coach Smith had a successful season. Facing strong Jefferson opposition, they were able to win the meet with their cross-town rivals for the first time in four years. While not achieving victory against other schools in interscholastic meets, they placed second in the city-county meet with 35 points, and in the western district meet in Lynchburg they won third place with a score of 26½ points.

Prospects for the 1958 season were good with several lettermen returning, including Kenny Garren, Herb Bowling, Jerry Smith, Benny Reed, and Archie Minton.

BLUE VOLLEYBALL TEAM

Under the capable instruction of Coach Betty Minton, Fleming's Blue Volleyball team posted a fine campaign during the 1957 season of eight wins and two losses, taking second place in the City High School League. The team entered the game with a determination to make good and they did.

The Colonelettes boasted no outstanding performer but presented a well balanced team with individual honors shifting hands many times during the season.

Senior members who returned from the '56 squad were Kackie Turner, Katherine Gravett, Shirley Thomas, Pat Miller, Rosemary Henry, and Hollie Engle.

Fleming Gold had a season's record of three wins and seven losses.

Sitting: K. Gravett, S. Atkinson, P. Arnold, B. Beheler, S. Thomas, P. Gillespie, B. Brown, B. Stewart, C. Dulaney.

BLUE BASKETBALL TEAM

The Fleming Colonelettes wound up their 1957-'58 basketball campaign with a rather unimpressive record for the year.

Although dropping each of the six games by a few points, the fine playing of Shirley Thomas, Sandra Atkinson, Katherine Gravett, Anne Lawson, Pat Miller, and Diane McMillan, all guards on this year's squad, and LaVerne Bailey, forward, will be missed next year.

The Jayvees came through with five wins and one loss in their favor for the season. Even though their wins did not count in league standings, they gained experience for next year.

The emphasis is not to win but to show good sportsmanship and Fleming Colonelettes have the capacity for both.

GOLD BASKETBALL TEAM

Activities

Best of luck + good wishes to a real sweet gal. Love ya Connie Bonnie Steve Taking part in activities, campaigning for office in the S.C.A., learning lines for the new play, poring over copy and pictures for the annual, singing in the Christmas program — these things our school life has left us to remember. When Fridays rolled around and we left assembly, we found ourselves headed for our favorite organization. Although we may have been big frogs in the big puddle or very small tadpoles, we found in our club life stronger friendships, understanding of how to work with others, and the fun of "just belonging".

Dick Morey, S.C.A. president, meets with other club presidents.

Student Co-operative Association

Bottom to Top: Rodney Hale, Historian; Doris Jacobs, Secretary; Hollie Engle, Vice President; Dick Morey, President.

The Student Cooperative Association serves as co-ordinator of all clubs and major school projects and has done so for twelve years. Every student is considered a member, but a special council leads the club.

This year in cooperation with the cheerleaders and some prominent Juniors and Seniors, the S.C.A. campaigned to improve the students attitudes in all phases of school activities. Topics such as sportsmanship and hall traffic were discussed in each homeroom. This was climaxed by an election of Jerry Smith and Hollie Engle as Mr. and Miss Citizen.

The Beta Club is one of the most noteworthy clubs at William Fleming. For fifteen years it has been a leadership club for Fleming students, designed to reward mind, encourage effort, and elevate the moral welfare of the students.

This year the Beta Club printed and sold programs at all the home football games. It held a banquet in February to initiate new members.

The State Convention was held in Roanoke and the Fleming Club acted as host along with sending several delegates. The club also held a reception for the state officers.

Ann Carol Banton, President; Sandra Ridenhour, Vice-President; Peggy Warren, Secretary; Mike Patterson, Treasurer.

The Junior Red Cross was organized for the purpose of giving young people an opportunity to participate in local Red Cross activities as well as in world-wide projects.

The job of each homeroom representative is to keep the students in the homeroom informed about the club's activities.

This year began with an enrollment drive, which was a big success. Other activities for the year included decorating party cups for the Veterans Hospital, participating in the Homecoming Parade, and giving various programs at the Veterans Hospital.

Margaret Deaner, Peggy Warren, and Jimmy Wood were elected to the city council.

"The Colonel"

Beverly Barbee
Senior Editor

The 1957-58 Colonel Staff celebrates William Fleming's 25th Anniversary by publishing the 21st Colonel. We are proud and happy to present to you, the students, this Silver Anniversary yearbook.

Throughout the year the staff has striven to make this the most memorable annual in the history of William Fleming. The staff has worked diligently soliciting advertisements, securing subscriptions, and taking pictures along with other innumerable tasks.

Besides publishing the annual, the Colonel Staff presented a hilarious account of "Life with the Colonel" in an assembly. We thoroughly enjoyed presenting it, and received your hearty approval.

The Colonel Staff hopes you will cherish this Silver Anniversary Annual and put it among your most precious possessions.

The Sabre

In its 20 years, the Newspaper has progressed from a one page mimeographed paper — the Fleming Flash — to a four page printed paper, The Sabre.

Every day during sixth period the staff meets in the basement classroom — the dungeon. Amid the noise from the furnace room and the props and sets from the plays the Staff manages to put out a paper once every two weeks.

If one opened the door of room 103 sometime in early Spring, he might find an interesting scene. At first glance it might seem that the two people politely shouting at each other were having a terrible argument. Then he notices someone carefully timing the situation and realizes the argument is a planned debate being prepared for the forensic festival.

The Literary Club is in charge of sponsorship and tryouts for the festival and chooses people to represent the school in public speaking, reading, spelling and debating.

Through the twenty-four years of its history, the Literary Club has constantly carried forth its purpose to promote and encourage literary works. Indeed the club can be proud, for Fleming students have gained many literary honors.

Fourth Row: R. Harr, G. Ferguson, T. Blackard, C. Harris, E. Webster, B. Kessler, J. Via, G. Barksdale.

The William Fleming Thespians, Troupe 570, is indeed a lucky group. In June, they will attend and present a play, Dark of the Moon, at the National Thespian Conference held at Purdue University. Troupe 570 is one of the eight troupes in the United States that has, because of continual meritorious work in past years, been asked to present a play at the conference.

This year the troupe has been busy working to raise funds for the trip to Lafayette, Indiana, but in April there was time out for fun when the Thespians held their annual formal dance.

Long after the school year ended, for most of the students, Troupe 570 still had much work to be done.

With every eye focused on Mrs. June Webb, the members of the choir made the halls echo with harmonious music.

The talented boys and girls presented radio broadcasts, assembly programs, exchange programs with other schools and sent seven members to the All-State Chorus. Their masterpiece was the annual presentation of "The Song of Christmas".

Fun, friendship, fashion—all these are found in the Y-Teen organization as it rounds out its twenty-third year at Fleming.

Incorporating fun and friendship, the girls put their "best foot forward" by co-sponsoring the annual Christmas Dance with the Senior Hi-Y. Queen Gloria Lawrence and her court added glitter to the Christmasy atmosphere of the gym. Also, in conjunction with the Hi-Y, the girls entered an elaborate blue and white float in the Homecoming parade. Fashion held sway when the two organizations sponsored a fashion show in the spring.

The student body came to know and understand the Y-Teens' serious purposes through the recognition service held in assembly.

The climax of the year's activities was a Mother-Daughter banquet. All these activities were accomplished under the leadership of their sponsor, Mrs. Martha Walden.

Junior Y-Teens

The Junior Y-Teens organization is a "little sister" of the Senior Y-Teens, being composed of eighth and ninth grade girls. Sponsored by Miss Bates and Mrs Hubard, the club participated this year in helping with such activities as the Y-Teen Chorus and Y-Teen Teller, the club newspaper. Riding in shiny convertibles, the Junior Y-Teens lent a bright note to the Homecoming parade. They made social headlines in the school news with the reception which they held at the first of the year for new members and with the Mother-Daughter banquet held at the end of the session.

Organized in 1939, as the Junior Girl Reserves, the club has played an important part in introducing the younger girls of the school to fellowship, friendship, and the high ideals of young womanhood.

Senior Hi-Y

Going quietly about their daily tasks, the members of the Senior Hi-Y endeavor to carry forward the purpose of the organization; namely, learning and practicing the better ways of Christian living.

The club was formed in 1947 under the sponsorship of Mr. Coulter. The membership has remained somewhat selective in that a scholastic average of "M" or better is required of each prospective member, and in that each must be recommended by three teachers.

During the current year the constitution was revised. In addition, monthly meetings were held on Monday nights at the central Y.M.C.A.

Advised by Mr. John Graybill, the group conducted several constructive projects during the year, the main one being an elaborate Christmas dance co-sponsored with the Y-Teens.

Junior Hi-Y

With the purpose to "Strengthen our bodies, develop our minds, worship God, and work together for a finer community and better world," the Junior Hi-Y began its year's work with renewed determination.

Members of the club sold soap for a money-making project. This job had its humorous side when several persons became quite indignant after being asked if they needed soap. On the sporting side of the picture, the members participated in swimming and basketball leagues.

Since its organization in 1951 our Junior Hi-Y has become one of the largest in the area.

As Fleming celebrates its twenty-fifth anniversary, the Girls' Athletic Association makes plans to celebrate its seventh year.

As a result of this busy year, membership has increased and more coveted class numerals, school letters and stars have been awarded for participation in intramural and interscholastic sports, such as basketball, volleyball, and softball, and this year a bowling team was organized.

As the first social event of the year, the G.A.A. had a dinner meeting at the S & W Cafeteria and presented the awards for the previous year.

The organization is growing rapidly, having almost doubled its membership in the past year.

The purpose of the G.A.A. is to promote good sportsmanship and good fellowship among the girls of the school.

Future Homemakers of

SENIOR CLUB

A modern version of the "Stitch and Chatter" club of "Little Women" is the Future Homemakers Association. However, the girls do far more than stitch and chatter as they endeavor to carry forward the purpose of the F.H.A.—learning to live better today in order that their lives and those of their families may be better tomorrow.

JUNIOR CLUB

E. Fuqua, J. Burritt, J. Roop, M. Dick, and D. McFarland display their handiwork.

The most outstanding project this year was providing clothing, toys and food for a needy family at Christmas. In addition, the club took gifts and entertained the patients in the polio ward at Roanoke Memorial Hospital.

Each member receiving 75 points or more received an F.H.A. emblem at the close of the year.

These junior homemakers—S. Edelman, J. Magness, D. Tolley, K. Madison—also made dolls for the orphanage.

The whistle blows for half-time at the football game, and with a "root-te-toot" and "rum-te-tum" the Band marches onto the field in a burst of blue and gold uniforms.

Adept in all forms of music from concert to pop, the Band has been an important factor in Fleming life for twelve years. Not only has it given its support at games, but it has been in the limelight this year on such occasions as the football clinic in Salem, the Band Festival at Bristol (even though it seemed for a time that a broken-down bus would prevent participation in the latter event), the Shrine Bowl parade, the Christmas parade sponsored by the Roanoke Merchants, and the Armed Forces day parade. In addition they have given several concerts during the year, participated in the Concert Band Festival, and were represented by several members in the All-State Band.

Majorettes

Marching before the band, that is the purpose of the majorettes. For twelve years they have led the band and added much to its appearance on the football field and in parades.

This year the majorettes attended the South-Eastern Band Festival in Bristol, Virginia. They, along with the band, participated in the Shrine Bowl Parade. They scored a great hit with everyone in the Christmas Parade in their red and white uniforms and their red and white tasseled caps. The majorettes could truly be called Santa's elves. In the Spring they attended the colorful Dogwood Festival in Vinton, Virginia.

The majorettes climaxed a year of high stepping and fancy twirling by accompanying the band on a pleasure trip. The girls will have many memories of an exciting, profitable, and happy year.

Pep Band

We clap our hands and stamp our feet to the rhythmic beat of Caldonia as the Pep Band plays on. In its short five years, the Pep Band has greatly improved school spirit as well as entertaining the student body and the public.

This year the Pep Band played for several conventions, including the State Republican Convention at Hotel Roanoke. They were honored in playing at the National Exhibition of Professional Tennis. They also enlivened all the home basketball games and a few out of town games. On occasion they lent spirit to the Fleming P.T.A.

The Pep Band and its director Rodney Hale deserve much praise for their excellent work this year.

Rotas

Need an extension cord? Want to turn the stage lights on? Need a special lighting effect for a dance? Then call the Rotas.

In general, the Rotas are an unseen but not unfelt organization. The membership is composed of a selected group of boys who show movies and slides to classes, play records for hops, and work backstage during all assemblies. The public address system is their special province, as they twist dials and manipulate microphones so that the dulcet tones of speakers and singers are carried to the uttermost parts of the auditorium.

Leaving their maze of electrical equipment behind, the boys, as an additional project, helped to take tickets at the Varsity football games in the fall.

Preparing for an assembly are: C. Wosaba, F. Nisbeth, G. Spiers.

Archery

If one should venture onto the Athletic field on certain sunny afternoons, he might think he had stumbled into Sherwood Forest (without the trees), for the modern Robin Hoods of Fleming are vying with one another in learning to handle the bow and arrow.

Since the club is only in its second year, it is a newcomer to Fleming life, but it is a growing and healthy infant. Its outstanding event for the year was a tournament held in the spring, and while no deer were in evidence, several of the modern Merry Men won coveted awards for marksmanship.

Poetry Club

The mysteries of iambic pentameter and dactylic hexameter become clearer as the members of the poetry club meet to study the poems of the great poets and to originate poems of their own. A high point of the year's study came in December when each member wrote an original poem and read it before the group.

The organization looks back over its six years of life believing that it has fulfilled its purpose of promoting a greater interest in and understanding of poetry.

Fleming Chapter 957 of the F. B. L. A. is composed of those students who are enrolled in two or more business subjects and who have maintained not less than an "M" average

Now in its fifth year, the aim of the club is manifest in its title; namely, to develop the qualities necessary in becoming a business leader.

In this connection, the members of the club took part in a spelling contest, given through the business classes, raised money to present an achievement award to the most outstanding business student, entertained guest speakers, toured a business firm, and sponsored a car in the Homecoming parade.

In the absence of the regular sponsor, Miss James, sponsorship responsibilities were assumed by Mrs. Smith.

Voice of Christian Youth

The Voice of Christian Youth, formerly known to Fleming as the Bible Club, is an interdenominational group designed to encourage Christian living among the students. Since religious life is important to all the activities of the school, the club was formed to further promote and encourage that facet of student life.

One of the chief speakers of the year was a representative of the world organization of the Voice of Christian Youth, who pointed out to the members of the club ways in which they might better reach the student body as a whole.

Reaching beyond the confines of the school, the club also took part in the city-wide Youth for Christ activities throughout the year.

A large red apple should go to the Future Teachers Association for the activities of its fifth year. Early in the year, it presented an assembly in which the faculty members portrayed somewhat less than ideal students. In addition, the club gave a tea for the faculty during National Education Week, and had a happy reunion dinner with its old members at Christmas.

Some of the members received first-hand teaching experience by observing classes in elementary schools and in doing student teaching. Three representatives were sent to the state convention in Richmond, helped along the way by the sale of "Fleming" ballpoint pens.

Thus the club strove to fulfill its purpose of giving its members an opportunity to explore Education as a career.

Senior Art Club

Sitting: B. Hall, J. Bates, B. Bowles, C. Powell. Standing: B. Patterson, L. Marine, R. Fugate, J. Short.

Sitting: Tommy Vaughan, Vice President; Barbara Atkins, President; Pat Gillespie, Secretary. Standing: Ray Fisher, Treasurer; Mr. Egge, Sponsor.

Ten years ago the first art club was formed to further develop and promote interest in the field of art. Since that time, Fleming students have become art conscious. This year, in order to encourage members to greater creativity, a point system was set up and emblems were awarded to those earning 500 or more points throughout the year.

Not satisfied with paint and brush, the club extended its interest to photography. In addition to clicking shutters and plunging film into developer, the members saw films on photography and listened to guest speakers.

Sitting—Holly Crouch, Vice President; Judy Austin, President; Judy Sink, Secretary-Treasurer. Standing: Mrs. Burks, Sponsor.

Sitting: K. Hammerschmidt, B. Carwile, C. Woods. Standing: F. Hall, W. Jenkins, R. Henninger, D. Williams, C. Hale.

The visitor entering Fleming's front hall is probably not aware that he sees in the front bulletin case the fruits of the labors of one of the youngest and most active clubs — the Junior Art Club. Organized three years ago, the club has this year brightened the school life by decorating the bulletin boards. The membership was divided into five committees, and each was assigned a special area as its decorative responsibility.

In addition, the club's Christmas gift to the school was a winter scene painted for the Christmas dance. It has also assisted the drama department from time to time in building and painting scenery.

Sitting: C. Riley, D. Ledden, M. Vest, P. Warren, B. Turner, M. Powers, M. Robbins, P. Williams. Standing: M. Nixon, J. Moore, W. Marsden, J. Thomas, C. Poff, C. Mays, J. Main, D. Palmer, C. Menefee.

Calling the plays in sportsmanship for athletes at Fleming during the past year, the Varsity Club endeavored to develop clean living, a sense of sportsmanship and high character among the members.

The club is composed of boys who have earned letters in football, basketball, wrestling, or track or who have been team managers.

Realizing that sportsmanship begins among the "small fry," the boys took an active part in promoting the annual sand-lot benefit game which was played against Jefferson High.

Girls' Monogram Club

First Row: S. Atkinson, K. Gravett, R. Henry, J. Mundy, S. Long, K. Turner, H. Engle.

Third Row: D. McMillan, S. Thomas, R. Barger, D. Dudley, E. Poff, C. Dulaney, P. Gillespie, C. Hurley.

Sportsmanship, leadership, promoting new sports, participation in athletics and officiating are the by-words to the Girl's Monogram Club.

For the first time in the history of the school, a club has been organized to recognize girls who have earned over five hundred points through participation in girl's sports.

Special projects for the year have consisted of starting new sports for girls and obtaining equipment for these sports. These have included bowling, tennis, archery, and golf.

Sitting: Patti Arnold, Vice President; Katherine Gravett, President. Standing: Pat Gillespie, Bowling Manager; Sandra Atkinson, Treasurer; Rosemary Henry, Program Chairman; Shirley Thomas, Social Chairman; Becky Brown, Recorder of Points; Sharon Littreal, Ways and Means.

Sitting: S. McClain, B. Clay, M. Hurt, A. Lance, P. Arthur.

Second Row: B. McClenden, R. Miller, D. Kline, J. Casey, S. Mason, J. Hancock.

Library Club

The purpose of the Fleming Library Club is twofold. First, it helps its members gain a worthwhile hobby for life through reading; second, it encourages its members to consider a career in library work. Its members not only meet together as a unit, but serve individually throughout the year as student librarians, thus becoming better acquainted with both the world of books and the work of the librarian. Those who serve two years in the capacity of assistants receive pins in recognition of their work.

During the past year the members took part in monthly programs and round table discussions. In the spring the club joined with other clubs of the city for a picnic.

Sitting: Linda Deyerle, Reporter; Mrs. Falls, Sponsor Steve Mason, Vice-President. Standing: Sandra Gray, Secretary; Nancy Via, President; Brenda Turner, Treasurer.

Vocational Office Training

G. Lawrence, D. Duncan, M. Cregger, B. McCann, and S. Cooper help with everyday tasks in the school office.

The Vocational Office Training Program is a coqperative part-time phase of the business education program. It constitutes a close relationship between the school and the civic-minded employers in the community.

The VOT students work on a part-time basis a minimum of 15 hours a week, receiving school credit for their on-the-job training. The VOT Coordinator and the employer cooperate in the training of the student during the work period.

Classroom instruction includes office conduct, work habits, business etiquette, human relations, and office procedures as well as the operation of typical business machines.

Features

In its twenty-five years of growth Fleming has seen the laughter and tears, the victories and defeats of its students. It has watched the student body grow to its present size of 1060, and with the growth, realized new honors brought to the school by the students in many fields of endeavor.

This year it again looked on as we decorated our Homecoming floats, danced to the strains of "After Graduation Day", caroled our glad Hosannas through the halls at Christmas, or played our hearts out on the athletic field. And watching closely as the senior class filed out of the auditorium for the last time to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" was the spirit of Fleming.

Hotel Patrick Henry's Ballroom lends an air of fantasy to Fleming's 1957 "Stardust" Junior-Senior Prom.

Rosemary Henry, Addie Lee Edwards, and Gale Ferguson ride on the Thespian float in Fleming's Homecoming Parade.

Doris Jacobs reigned as Queen of Fleming's Homecoming Parade.

Fleming's outstanding orators, Becky Blevins, "Voice of Democracy" State winner and Ron Reid, American Legion Oratorical Contest State and Regional winner.

"Yes! We'll place an ad in your yearbook!" With these words many of Fleming's supporters boost the annual and newspaper. Without their support we would be unable to furnish either publication at a reasonable price. We appreciate their help and interest as well as their financial aid and urge the Fleming students to patronize the business houses and individuals who have rendered us such service.

symbol of progress...

As graduation nears, let's take a serious look at the past. We see that education has been largely responsible for the progress of our nation.

Why? Education is PROGRESS.

Today — more than ever before — industry, business and labor, all, know the true values of a good educational system. EDUCATION continues to stand as a true symbol of PROGRESS.

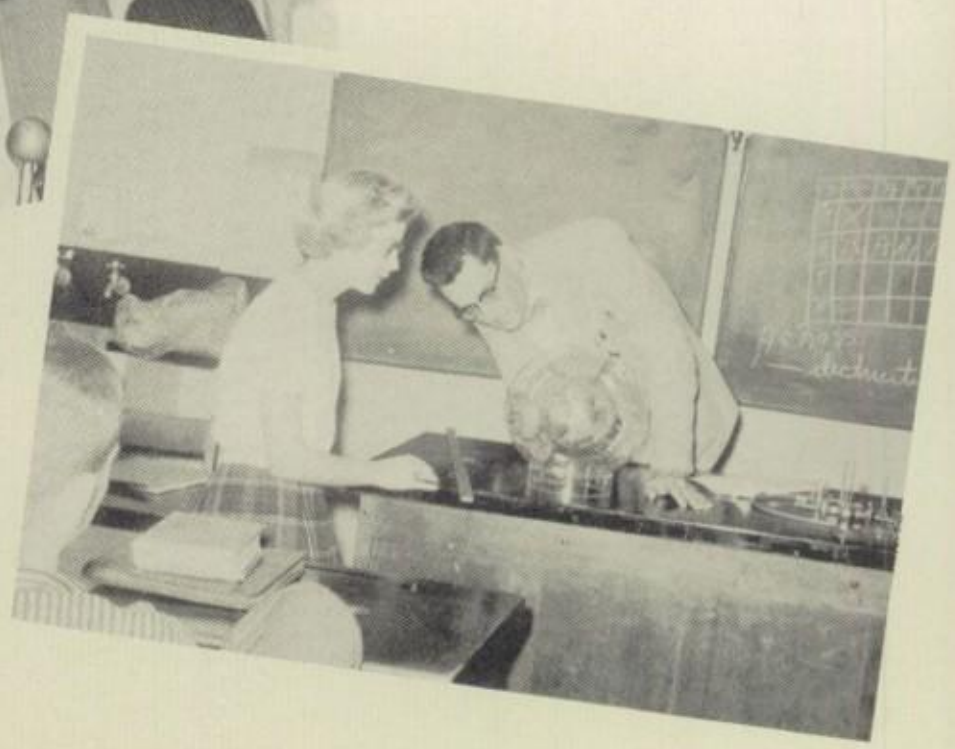
Larry Arrington, an English gent, sings a ballad to Judy Bower, the Southern belle, while cameraman Jerry Turner, "camera" Irene Lavinder, and director Sharon Littreal look on during a skit at the Beta Club banquet.

We will long remember the "Big Snow" of February, 1958 and the three-day vacation it brought. Here two Flemingites use one of the large drifts as a shield for a snowball battle.

Bob Brown and Jennie Stanley produce "hair raising effects" at the Science Circus assembly.



Fleming's 25th year witnessed the dawn of the space age as Russia and the United States launched artificial satellites. Here Mr. Dixon explains to Diane McMillan how to trace Sputnik's course.
